Army Deserter in Attempt at Suicide

Waukegan, Ill., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Ezra McVeagh, Army deserter, brought back here from San Antonio, Texas, today after he confessed and later repudiated burning Elfrida Knaak in the basement of the Lake Bluff village hall, tried to commit suicide by leaping from a third floor stairway of the county jail but was restrained from making the jump by the Sheriff.

Miss Knaak was found fatally burned in the basement of the Lake Bluff police station on October 30 and died several days later declaring she had burned herself, a statement which a coroner's jury believed. McVeagh when arrested said he burned Miss Knaak but later was found to have been in the Elgin insane asylum at that time. He also confessed striking Miss Edna Kelley, Lake Forest school teacher, over the head with an iron pipe two days after his release from the asylum.

Today he repudiated both statements, declaring they were made only to embarrass some of his relatives whom he disliked. Authorities said he would be returned to the Elgin asylum.

Three Indicted on Manslaughter Charge

Belleville, Ill., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Warrants charging first degree murder were issued here today against Valentine Harpstrite and Raymond Rensing of New Baden, Ill., and Elmer Lindner of Trenton, Ill., in the shooting of Justus Nungesser, wealthy farmer, who was killed Sept. 9, in a robbery on his farm near Mascoutah.

The warrants, prepared by State's Attorney Curt Lindner, were based on a signed confession of Lindner, who asserted that he drove Harpstrite and Rensing to Nungesser's farm, and then brought them back to Harpstrite's saloon in New Baden. The three men were in jail here today. Rensing and Harpstrite both have denied Lindner's charges.

TALKING ABOUT OVERCOATS.
The best you'll find at Bernstein's at the lowest prices. Besides Bernstein's overcoats as well as suits are made to your measure—this is important. Bernstein's clothes will fit you and will hold their shape as long as they last—ready made will not. Here is something that will open your eyes. I sell imported Montenegro overcoats for $90.00 made to your measure, the same overcoats ready made are advertised in Chicago papers as a bargain for $100.—what do you think about that? Take my advice if you want overcoats or suits go to Bernstein's. You will save at least $10.00 on the cheapest and $40 on the best. The workmanship is superior. Suits or overcoats strictly all pure wool, $27.50, up to $60. J. L. BERNSTEIN, 92 Galena Ave., over Plowman's Store. Phone 224. 1t fire screen that could not be knocked over.

See that the keys to all grates and stoves are put beyond reach or, if they are stationary, that they are not too easily turned. A cat or a dog can easily set a house on fire by stepping on a gas key. Board floors should be protected by zinc squares and stoves near walls should have asbestos board behind them.

Look out for leaks. Stoves rust over summer, and so do pipes. A lot of things can go wrong.

At least once a year all these must be looked after and November—not March—is the time to do it.

ACTRESS REPLACES

OLD WITH THE NEW

Paris — (AP)—Cecile Sorel, premiere actress of the Comedie-Francaise, has been converted to modern art. Her Du Barry bed, which she took with her to America, the Boucher paintings, her china, and the Louis XIV furniture which made her apartment famous in Paris, are to be sold. Mlle. Sorel has replaced them with up-to-the-minute furnishings.

Mlle. Sorel, who is Countess of Saffur, has left her historic home, once the palace of the Duchess of Mazarin, on the old Quai Voltaire, and has taken a brand new apartment in the geometric style in the Champs-Elysees.

She seems to be elated over the change.

"Away with all things ancient and venerable," she cried. "I have lived long enough surrounded by Louis Quinze furniture and the atmosphere will be the last word in modern art."

Sorel dreams of a salon carpeted and tapestried with parchment.

"That would be like living in an alchemist's vase," said the star.

The lighting will be diffused, indirect, the arm-chairs low, and Madame Du Barry's bed replaced by a modern divan.

"I'm keeping nothing to remind me of the past."

HEAD SOC COL

OLD CAIRO.
SEE between the earth and sky
The saffron drooping low.
And by the ancient sun-dyed Nile
A glimpse of Old Cairo.

A palm or two against the blue.
And one tree, not too tall.
And native craft, with masts a-slant
Moored by a long, low wall.

The buildings, each a painted box.
And level as the sea.
With window-eyes from out the past
In silence stare at me.

I look at them from other lands
And feel the hush of heat.
And almost hear the noiseless tread
Of hurrying native feet.

The greatness of the past unrolls.
Vast hosts file slowly by.
And miracles wake songs of praise
Under a desert sky.

Few inches here—a tiny scene—
The saffron drooping low—
But all of Egypt's glory in
A glimpse of Old Cairo.

Stanley-Selover Wedding Celebrated

John M. Stanley, Jr., and Miss Helen C. Selover, both of Dixon, were united in marriage at the parsonage to St. Paul's Lutheran church Thursday at high noon, the pastor, Rev. Lloyd Warren Walter, officiating at the ceremony.

The bride was beautifully gowned in satin in one of the new cocoa brown shades, with hat encostume. She wore a lovely corsage of bride's rosebuds and small chrysanthemums.

The bride and bridegroom were attended by Miss Mabel Stanley and Harold Selover.

The bridesmaid, Miss Stanley was prettily gowned in a frock of blue silk crepe, with hat in darker shade. She also wore a corsage of rosebuds and chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony the bridal party, mostly relatives, were entertained at a wedding luncheon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Selover of 916 University Place. The home was beautifully decorated in pink and white roses and chrysanthemums being the flowers employed. The luncheon table was gay in pink roses and pink candles and the large white wedding cake composed the centerpiece.

Mr. Stanley is a valued employee at the Coss Dairy and his bride is employed in the office of the Brown Shoe Co., where she will continue to hold her position. Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Stanley left on a brief wedding trip and will arrive in Dixon, it is expected, the first of the week, where they will make their home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stanley have many friends here who wish them every happiness. They are both estimable and popular young people.

PARISIAN WOMEN IGNORE FANCY HOSIERY

Paris—(AP)—Parisian women apparently have decided to have nothing to do with shaded stockings—the kind that are unevenly dyed so that the front may be light and the back a deeper shade, or the ankle a pale pink and the calf and knee a bluish rose.

The same women have turned their backs on fishnet hosiery and hand painted or hand embroidered silk stockings. Most of the stockings worn here are in deep beige shades for day costumes and flesh or sunburn tints for evening.

POINTERS FOR PARENTS

Too much cannot be said about the danger of fire at this time of year. This goes for older people as well as for children, but children must be guarded particularly because they don't understand the necessity for care and depend on us to keep them safe.

The old-fashioned rubber-hose gas connection is not obsolete by any means although it should be. Cities and states should legislate against it and make its use a criminal offense.

If by any chance you happen to have one, never go to bed under any circumstances with it turned on. And be sure that the gas is turned off as well as the stop-cock on the floor where the hose is attached.

The key at the stove-end is not strong enough to push the rubber-hose loose from its connection and a stream of raw gas is released into the room which will cause death from asphyxiation in a very few minutes, if not an explosion.

No gas stove should be used either day or night that does not have a true connection of some sort to carry off the fumes of burned gas to the outside air.

Don't think that you will be warned by odors, and that it will then be time enough to look to the safety of the family. Sometimes there is a warning odor but more often there is not. Carbon monoxide has no odor and death from it is sudden and sure.

The only safe gas stove is one with a lead or iron pipe connection and a flue to carry off poisonous burned gases.

But to go back to fire, probably one of the chief sources of danger is the flimsy nightgowns and sleeping garments that little folk wear in winter.

Canton flannel, outing flannel, flannelette, and all the soft knitted fabrics that are so comfortable and warm, have fuzzy surfaces that ignite like a flash.

Children need these warm nightgowns. I should not change them. But I should see that every open grate and stove in the house was protected by a

A MARTYR TO SCIENCE.

Add the name of Dr. Sabin A. von Sochocy of East Orange, N. J., to your list of real heroes.

Dr. Sochocy was a specialist in the use of radio-active materials. He had made extensive researches into the possibilities of their use in the field of medicine; and, in this work, he had, himself, been seriously infected by the mysterious radium poisoning.

The other day, after a painful illness of over a year Dr. Sochocy died—died as a direct result of the radium poisoning. He was a real martyr to science. His researches were of great value; and he himself undoubtedly counted his own death a cheap price for the added knowledge that his work made possible.

LAW ENFORCEMENT CRUMBLES.

Gilbert Swan mentions a new and disturbing development in New York life—the increasing prevalence of the hired bodyguard on the public streets.

Scores and scores of well-to-do men retain gunmen or expugilists in accompany them wherever they go and protect them from attacks, he says. This is largely due to the activities of racketeers, who endanger the lives of men who do not submit to their demands.

As a bit of evidence regarding the break-down of law enforcement in this country, Swan's item could hardly be bettered. The whole thing reads like a description of 14th century Venice, not 20th century America.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNOCK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

With all the Tinymites on the sled, the eskimo in low voice, said "Now please be careful with my dogs, and treat them very kind. They'll take you safely, have no fear, to Toyland. It's not far from here. 'Twill be a dandy ride because your path will wind and wind."

"Oh, thank you, sir," one Tiny cried. "We know we will enjoy this ride, and don't you worry 'bout your dogs. We'll keep them safe from harm." And then they heard the queer man say, "All right, then, Tinies! On your way!" The dogs barked loud and started, as the Eskimo waved his arm.

Across the ice and snow they sped. It surely was a dandy sled. The Tinies clung together, in the fear that they would fall. "These dogs," said Clowny, "sure are strong. They travel swiftly right along, despite the very heavy load that they are forced to haul."

Poets' Corner

THE CHRISTMAS TREE'S STORY

I once grew in the northland where the summer sunsets glow. Where summer storms were fiercest and deep was the winter snow. A grand old home it surely was with nothing to see The firs, the pines, the hemlocks, or my brothers of the spruce.

One day in early autumn came a woodsman to our land. Who walked among our stately trunks with towering tops so grand. "Ah! these are fine. I'll take them all, but that one is for me. For it will make a gorgeous sight, a wondrous Christmas tree."

And so, a short time later when the chill was in the air, Some sturdy woodsmen cut us down and sent us everywhere. Around my breast a rope was twined so I was plainly marked. A thousand of us o'er the lake on steamship then embarked.

The large and busy city was the place where we were sent. And I was taken to a church so grand and eminent. My lofty summit nearly touched the ceiling of the room. Where all the air was fragrant-laden by the flowers in bloom.

The children came, and draped me from by head clear to my feet. With red and green and tinsel, bells, and ornaments complete. I never saw such pretty things; I never knew such toys. Were in this world to glorify the lives of girls and boys.

A great and dazzling lighted star they placed above my head. I thought about the star which showed the Savior's manger-bed. My! What a Christmas eve the children had.

5c SETTLES A BIG SMOKE QUESTION

Can there really be a good cigar for five cents?

Some men will say it never was, can nor will be done. But this ad says it is being done—that there's a really fine 5c cigar to be had: Havana Ribbon. And it's been on the market thirty years. A cigar has to be good to make such a record.

And Havana Ribbon is better to-day than ever before. Immense production is doing it—so many millions made; tobacco bought in such huge quantities, we are able to use long-filler, ripe tobacco from heart to wrapper. And still keep the price at 5c! Imagine! No bitter under-ripe nor flat-tasting over-ripe leaves. No loose bits to come out in your mouth. But all fine, full-flavored, age-mellowed tobacco making a delightful cool, mild, fragrant smoke. If you've one nickel in your pocket, man, set it to work and let Havana Ribbon settle the five-cent cigar question completely and effectively. Also Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

KEYES, NOTED AS PROSECUTOR, NOW FACES OWN TRIAL

He Will Face Charges of Graft in Native State Dec. 17

Los Angeles—(AP)—Two weeks after he stepped from office, District Attorney Asa Keyes, a figure in Los Angeles political circles for a quarter of a century, will go on trial charged with one of the most astounding bribery plots on the city's history.

Keyes' name is identified with many sensational trials, including the Almee Semple McPherson case and the murder trial of William E. Hickman for the slaying of 12-year-old Marian Parker.

The famous prosecutor will sit in a familiar court December 17 while Buron Fitts, his elected successor and one-time aide in office, seeks to prove that Keyes accepted bribes to secure the acquittal of the notorious Julian Petroleum corporation promoters.

The history of that alleged oil scandal will be as much a part of the trial as the stocky prosecutor himself, for three of the men charged with a part in the swindle of more than 40,000 investors also have been caught in a grand jury's charges of corruption.

Keyes, it has been agreed, will be tried apart from the others. The co-defendants are Jacob Berman, known up and down Broadway as the "bright youngster" of the Julian fiasco; the Rosenbergs, Ed and Jack, promoters; Charles Riemer, special investigator in Keyes' office; Ben and Dave Getzoff, father and son proprietors of an obscure Spring street tailor shop where the "pay-offs" were alleged to have been made during the Julian trial, and A. I. Lasker, former head of a defunct finance company.

The Lasker case, separate from the Julian trial, was an embezzlement action in which the grand jury accused Keyes of accepting a bribe to dismiss the charges.

The case against Keyes is all the more sensational in that it involves a man upon whose name scandal never had touched before in a long public career.

Keyes' prosecutor, once lieutenant governor of California, was elected after Keyes, a short time before the grand jury laid its cards on the table, announced his retirement.

Keyes, the grand jury said, had engineered the Julian trial which resulted in the acquittal of every defendant. As one witness put it: "The verdict nearly knocked Judge Doran off his chair."

The jurors asserted that Keyes had conspired with the Julian promoters to obtain either the dismissal of charges or acquittal in the event of trial.

The money involved in the alleged bribery was not large, the indictments disclosed. Officially it totaled $38,200, but rumors sent it soaring to high sums. A United States district attorney said Berman made $3,000,000 off the Julian collapse.

First evidence of a ripple in the smooth working of Keyes' office came when an employee of the tailor shop, Milton Pike, angered at the Getzoffs for alleged salary differences, brought a little diary to a county official.

It recited the frequent meetings

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

BY AHERNS

of Keyes and various defendants in Getzoff's shop. Pike said he and other employees overheard "interesting" conversations in the partitioned office. A three-sided mirror facing the office reflected the actions of the occupants and Pike said he saw large sums of money exchanged. Subsequently, other related alleged surreptitious deals in Keyes' office centering about the Lasker and Julian cases.

DOG TEAM WILL HAUL MAIL 600 MILES IN EAST

First International U. S.
Mail Delivery by Dog
Team Planned

Lewiston, Me.—(AP)—Six black head Eskimo dogs, reputed to be the only genuine team of the kind in the world, will be harnessed to America's first international dog-team mail leaving here Dec. 20. They will "mush" to Montreal and return, a distance of 600 miles.

Alden Pulsifer, postmaster at Minot, who drove the first official dog-team mail from Minot to Boston, Concord and Albany in 1927, will be behind the sledges. With him will be his brother, George, as relief driver. It is expected that the trip will consume three weeks.

The six 100-pound huskies that will haul the mail-filled sled originally were brought to this country from Baffinland and are now owned by Ed Clark of North Woodstock, N. H. Mr. Clark is internationally known as a race driver and dog breeder. The dogs are members of a single family; Noochus, the mother, being the lead dog and Ipar, the father, the sled dog.

The mail sled will touch at some 120 towns and cities during the round trip and will carry letters of holiday greeting from Maine state and civic officials to similar functionaries in New Hampshire, Vermont and Quebec and in Montreal and other Canadian cities and towns.

Request has been made to Postmaster-General Harry S. New at Washington for the issuance of a special souvenir stamp to be used for the occasion. It was estimated that approximately 50 cents would be the charge for transporting each letter. Messages will be distributed and accepted for distribution in every town and city en route.

Persons having dog-team mail will be notified with a post-card sent through regular channels, the card serving as identification.

Diabetes Not Always Fatal

By MARK LEWIS EMERSON, M. D.
Oakland, California

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

A great American authority on diabetes, in presenting statistical data, stated that the life span of a certain group of diabetes has increased more in the last few years than the life span of a large non-diabetic insured group.

We are surely living in a new age. Only a few years ago, diabetes in children was considered fatal. Diabetic coma in adults was likewise fatal. When a case of diabetic came into the hospital, whether it was an adult or a child, we held our hands up in horror; nothing that we could do would help them. We could not wake them up. They would sleep in a sound comatose condition for several days before they died. Now, adays, if they are brought into the hospital at night unconscious and we give them insulin, they are wide awake in the morning and want hard eggs for breakfast and complain if you don't give them an extra helping!

Diabetics as a rule are great eaters. Some of them are fat and overweight. Some authorities say that diabetes is the penalty for being overweight, especially if the overweight comes from eating too much bread and butter, cakes, pies, sweets, macaroni, and spaghetti, potatoes and all kinds of starchy foods.

Two per cent of the American race are diabetics. Many people have diabetes and don't know it, their blood is overloaded with sugar. Again, many people have what is called a low sugar tolerance, they can't eat all the sweet things that others can, so they are troubled with hives and pimples and skin blotches as well as with feeling sleepy and lousy. This doesn't mean that people who eat too much sweets followed by hives, have diabetes, but it does mean that you have a low sugar tolerance and that either your diet or you should be checked up, to find out where you stand physically.

If you are fat and overweight, this will also shorten your life. This condition has not the distinction of being a disease unless you are fifty pounds overweight. Then it is termed obesity.

Obesity leads to diabetes and many other troubles, and treatment as far as the diet is concerned is somewhat the same for diabetes as well as a cause for obesity. This will generally be discovered in a physical examination and check up.

Connecticut Churches Tax Exempt 200 Years

Hartford, Conn.—(AP)—The system of freeing religious bodies from taxation has rounded out two centuries in Connecticut and is beginning a third.

Church of England churches in the Connecticut colony were granted exemption for taxation in 1827. A few years later the Baptists and Quakers also were exempted.

It is now 200 years since provision was made for dissenters from the established church. The general court in 1708 granted permission for the Presbyterian system of church government to be used by churches that dissented from the Church of England.

The thrill of having at your fingers' ends, a magical, quick-as-you-can-think contrivance that turns your deep-down feelings and innermost soliloquies into beautiful-looking, printed, readable English . . . well! . . . there may be greater thrills but this is one of the near-the-top ones for a lot of us emotional cusses!

GRAND CHAMPION OF STOCK SHOW IS TO BE EXHIBITED

Will Not Go at Once to Dining Car and Hotel Kitchens

BY GORDON M. SESSIONS
Associated Press Staff Writer
Chicago, Dec. 7.—(AP)—It's all over but the shouting for the champion hogs, sheep and cattle of the International Livestock Exposition. The trail that led from fields and ranches to agriculture's premier spectacle, is ending in the butchering houses. Yesterday they moved down stockyard lanes into buying pens where the auctioneers' "How-much-am-I-bid-boys" started the beasts on their way to dining car and hotel tables. Only the breeding classes will emerge with their lives, with one exception: Duck, the grand champion steer once owned by 12-year-old Clarence Goecke, State Center, Iowa, will be taken to New York alive by the J. C. Penny Company which bought it at the record-breaking figure of $8050. Mr. Penny, who once was a poor farm boy, wants to exhibit it as an example of 4-H club achievement. Farewell to Boys
This afternoon will mark the farewell appearance at the show of the two lads who showed the way in cattle raising to veterans against whom they competed and won. Goecke, with Keith Collins, also of Marshall County, Iowa, will lead the champion cows of their winning animals into the ring for the junior feeding contest sale. It was Collins whose steer set a precedent in stock show history by being the best steer offered for slaughter on hoof and then winning the prize for best carcass. Buying got under way yesterday and will continue today and Saturday. Judging has been completed in all divisions except the breeding classes Galloway cattle, Spotted Poland China and Yorkshire swine and Suffolk horses.

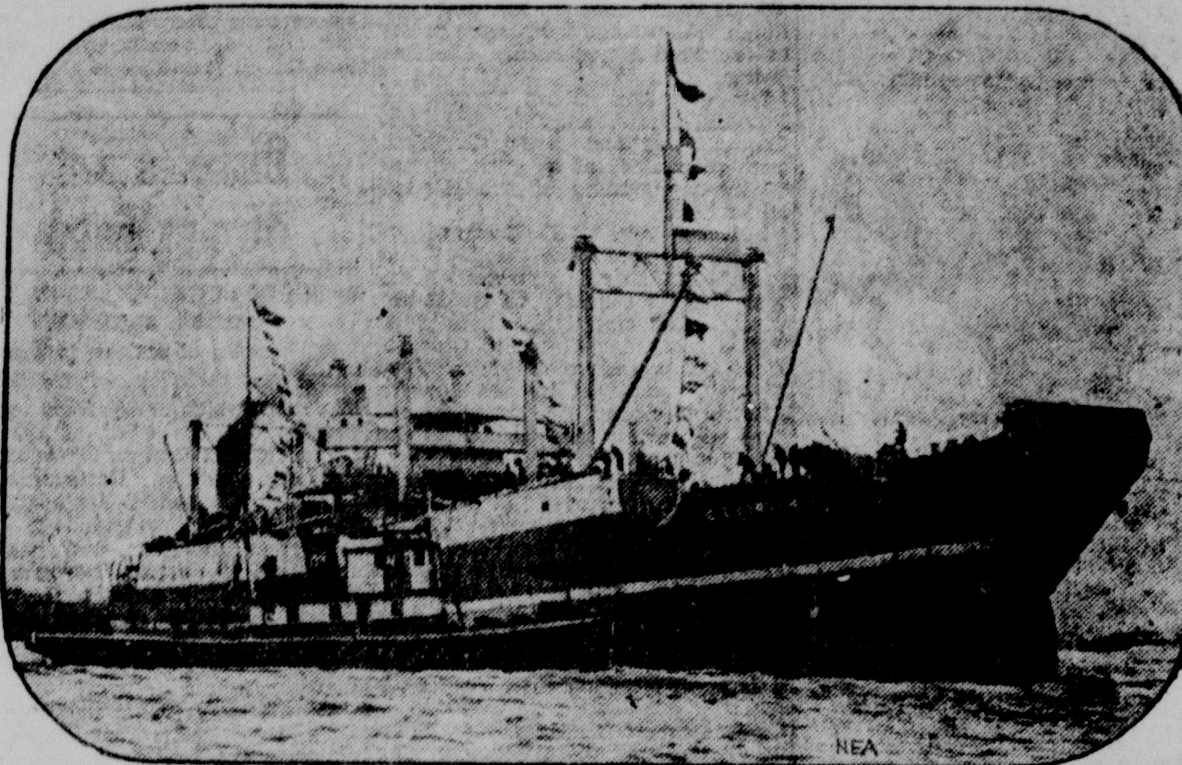

Other Prices Low
So much interest was attracted yesterday by the sale of Goecke's prize steer that the sale of the other prize animals was forced into the background. Iowa State College got only $32 a hundred for its grand champion barrow, a Duroc, and Dr. J. A. Swallow, Storm Lake, Iowa, drew $16.50 a hundred for his reserve champion a Chester White. Both figures were under the record. The grand champion carload lot of steers—the Aberdeen Angus yearlings owned by E. P. Hall, Mechanicsburg, Ill.—brought $44 a hundred. The champion carload of sheep, owned by W. G. Hill, Evansville, Wis., sold at $27 a hundred.

Among livestock honors won yesterday were those in the breeding Poland China division, with C. L. Hurless of Coleta, Ill., showing the grand champion boar and the Wonderland Farm of Wolcott, Ind., showing the grand champion sow. The horse show of last night again attracted a packed gallery, with harness and saddle horses and roadsters sharing interest with the nightly polo game.

AMUSEMENTS

"BLOSSOM TIME" AGAIN
TRIUMPHS IN CHICAGO
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 7.—When "Blossom Time," the ever popular musical play, based upon romance in the life of Franz Schubert, the composer, and with musical adaptations from his own melodies, opened at the Studebaker Theater last week it fulfilled all promises of its producers, for it is the most magnificent "Blossom Time" that has yet been presented and is played and sung by a company that is the equal of any that has presented it in the past. "Blossom Time" is here for a brief period only and upon the completion of this engagement will start on a country-wide tour, playing only the larger cities between here and San Francisco and back through Canada to the East, where it will bring to a close its celebrated Franz Schubert Centenary tour with what is expected to be a prolonged Metropolitan run. Genevieve Neagle, John Charles Gilbert, Herbert Lytle, Robert Lee Allen, Nancy Sheridan, Ivan Servais, Elsa Lang and Milla Denova head this year's cast, which also includes a singing feminine ensemble that is as good to look upon as it is to listen to. From the standpoint of continuous service, the highly successful operetta leads all current musical attractions of its class, for it was produced over fourteen years ago and still is one of the most popular musicals of Central Europe annually.

Off for Two Years in Antarctic

This picture shows the U. S. Albatross, Commander Byrd's flagship, as it leaves from Los Angeles the other day on its voyage to the Antarctic, expecting to consume at least two years. This ship carried Commander Byrd and the plane in which he expects to fly over the South Pole.

Vienna saw and heard it first a few months before the World War broke out, and shortly afterward it was done in Germany. In Vienna it maintained an uninterrupted run through the chaotic days of the great war, and now after all previous light opera records have been swept away by its success, this hardy perennial has taken its place as the modern musical classic of the commercial theater. Seven years ago it made its first appearance in this country and its history is all too well known to detail or chronicle its American record. It is said that "Blossom Time" has now played to more people than any other operetta presented in the last ten years.

Good Thoughts for Good People

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men.

Galatians.

The heart of the giver makes the gift dear and precious.

Luther.

Oh, how skillful grows the hand That obeyeth love's command! It is the heart and not the brain That to the highest doth attain; And he who followeth love's behest Far excelleth all the rest.

Longfellow.

Take the selfishness out of this world and there would be more happiness than we should know what to do with.

H. W. Shaw.

One might almost say that evil's greatest vantage ground is in the beliefs of selfishness, which invariably shut out all thought of service and perpetually hinder that progress Spiritward which can only be accomplished through unselfed love which seeks the good of its neighbor.

Rockford Bombing Case Progressing

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 6—(AP)—More witnesses for the state today were called to the stand today around Paul Reed a skein of circumstantial evidence, which the state hopes will send him to the electric chair for the murder last July of Vernon Plager, husband of Reed's sweetheart.

Plager was killed when he stepped on the starter of his automobile and exploded a bomb wired to it. The state charges Reed set the bomb in order to facilitate his relations with Mrs. Ivy Plager, Plager's wife.

W. C. Bell, investigator for the State's Attorney's office today told of finding two photographs of Mrs. Plager in Reed's room a few days after Plager's death. He said on cross examination that he had searched the basement of the house where Plager lived but had not found two sticks of dynamite which newspapermen later unearthed there.

Two policemen told of finding Reed and Mrs. Plager together in November, 1927, at the home of Floyd Plager, brother of Vernon Plager, and produced police records to show Reed had been fined as a result. Another policeman, who detached the starter of Plager's automobile, identified this instrument which had attached to it a piece of wire which the state contends was connected with the bomb.

The state has not indicated when Mrs. Ivy Plager, expected to be the principal witness for the prosecution, will take the stand.

BIG TEN COACHES MEET TODAY FOR VARIED REASONS

Schedules, Playing Rules, and Players on Program

BY PAUL R. MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Dec. 7.—(AP)—With such highly combustible subjects as pro-se-lytting and eligibility providing material for fireworks, Big Ten athletic directors, coaches and faculty advisers assembled for their annual sports conclave in Chicago today.

While there had been no specific information of a blow-off, rumors were thick that at least two universities, Chicago and Illinois, were ready to demand a showdown on the conference policy of obtaining athletes and on enforcement of the eligibility rules.

Matters of policy were expected to consume virtually all the discussion of football and basketball coaches, who already have drawn up schedules for 1929. Coaches in minor sports, however, had the long task of schedule-making ahead of them.

Eligibility Cases.
The cases of Mayes McLain, Iowa's charging Indian fullback and Allan Holman, Ohio State quarterback, who came to the Big Ten after playing football at other colleges, were expected to be decided or else referred to the committee on eligibility for immediate action. Several protests have been made against these two players.

Indications that Dr. John Wilce, resigned Ohio State football coach, may announce his future plans at the two-day conference also created considerable interest. Coach Wilce has been reported to have received coaching offers from Harvard, Dartmouth and Nebraska. L. W. St. John, Director of Athletics at Ohio State, may name Wilce's successor, understood to be Sam Williamson, one of Wilce's assistants during the past two years. No other changes in coaching staffs at Big Ten camps were anticipated.

To Set Track Dates.
The faculty committee was to award the indoor and outdoor track and field championships and set dates for the events. The place and dates of the indoor swimming championships also were to be announced.

Among non-conference athletic directors attending the meeting were Ossie Solem of Drake University, who will announce the dates of the Drake relays, and Dr. Forest Allen of Kansas, who is seeking Big Ten entries for the Kansas relays. Dates for the Penn and Ohio State relays also were to be given to Big Ten track coaches so they can arrange their schedules, if necessary.

William G. Bratton of Chicago, an official of the United States Amateur Hockey Association, planned to request Big Ten officials to adopt professional hockey rules. Bratton said Big Ten contests would be faster and cleaner with them. Furthermore, Bratton said, experience with professional rules enables a college player to star quicker in pro leagues if he should decide to enter those ranks after graduation.

SPORT SLANTS

By BRIAN BELL

(Associated Press Sports Editor)
Toronto, Ont., Dec. 7.—(AP)—The baseball battlefield on the draft question is to move from Toronto to West Baden, Ind., on the last day of the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. Indications were that the question of promoting players by selection from the minors to the major leagues would be brought up for discussion again at the Indiana resort about January 15.

When amendments proposed by the major-minor advisory council to the regulations of the National Association governing the draft were rejected, the whole matter was passed over for consideration in committee at West Baden.

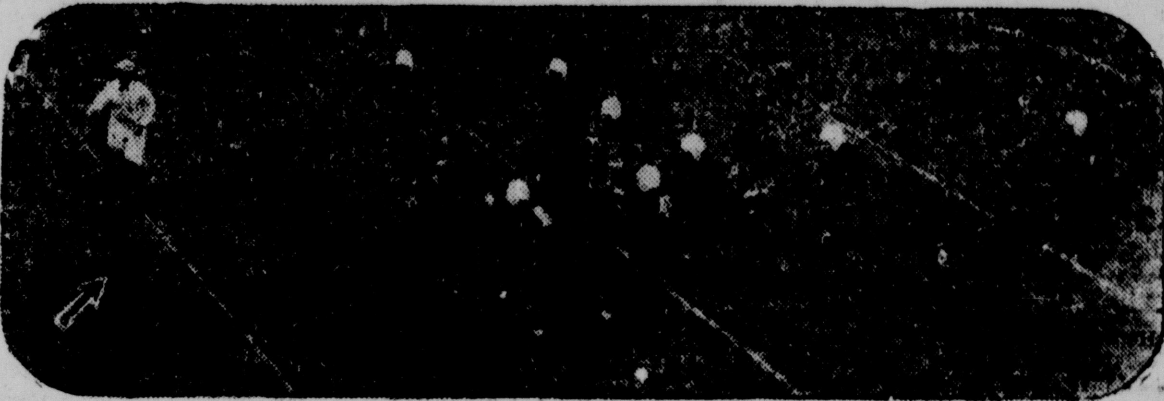

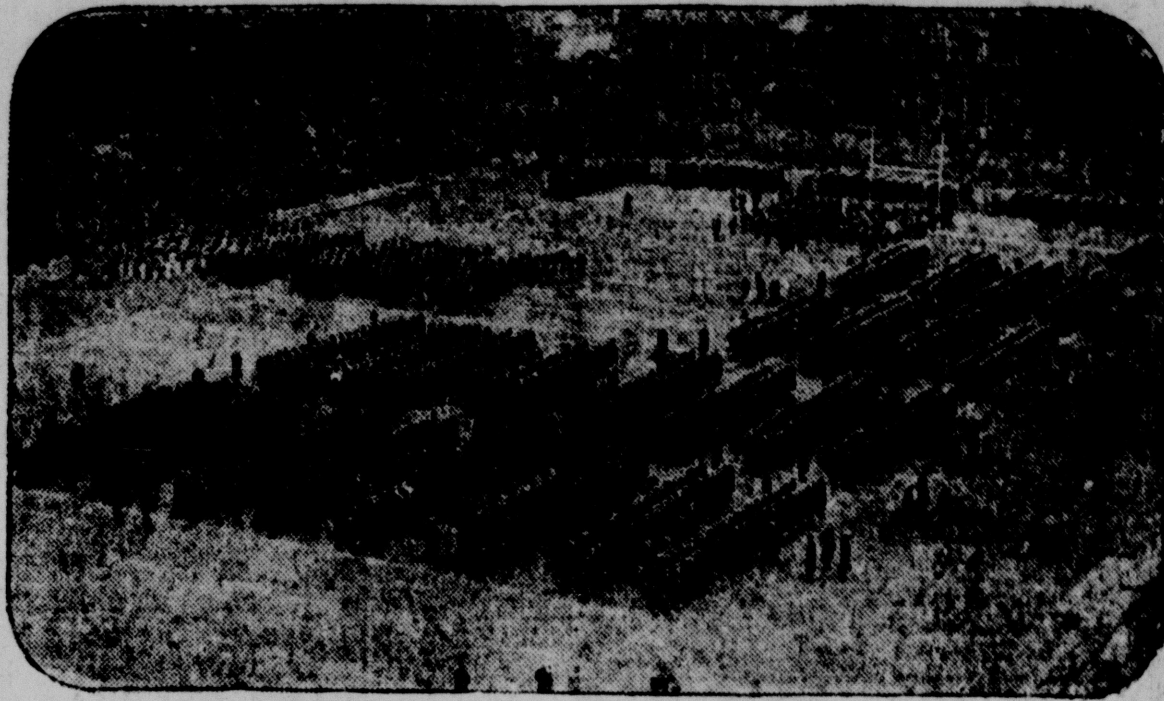

A committee from classes AA and A will be appointed soon to seek a conference with a committee from the majors in an effort to iron out differences on the question of selection of players other than by purchase. Minors below class A went on record here as favoring unlimited draft by the majors from the minors.

It is understood that the representatives of the class AA leagues at the West Baden meeting will propose a sweeping change by which they will agree to the unrestricted draft if the majors in turn will agree to discontinue the practice of owning minor league clubs which are used as farms and make major league clubs with minor league ownership in whole or in part independent of the hardship of the restrictions of the draft as operative now in all classes AA leagues.

The proposal to have the majors retire from the minor league field comes just as the New York Yankees are reported negotiating for the Syracuse club of the New York-Pennsylvania League. Chambersburg in the Blue Ridge, San Antonio in the Texas and Nashville in the Southern Association.

The St. Louis Cardinals have a "Chain Store" system of minor league clubs ranging from class AA to class D. A majority of clubs in both the American and National Leagues have more or less extensive minor league holdings.

No minor league enthusiast professed to believe today that the majors would accept the drastic suggestion of a divorce from all minor league affiliations, but the gesture was regarded as a possible declaration of independence from the big minors.

LEADERS WANT HOOVER VIEWS ON M'NARY BILL

Farm Relief Situation in Congress is De- cidedly Muddled

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Farm relief legislation, long in a state of uncertainty, finds itself muddled now by the absence of the President-elect, Herbert Hoover.

One bill thought to have administration approval, has been introduced by Chairman McNary of the Senate agriculture committee, but even before it is out of the committee room, doubt has cast a shadow on its path. Republican leaders do not seem to know what Mr. Hoover's ideas on this bill are and asking him may be a little difficult, since he is in South America. And a spokesman for him apparently has not been found.

Nevertheless, leaders in Congress opposed to an extra session next spring are believed to be thinking of asking Mr. Hoover to pass on the McNary bill. They feel that with his approval the measure might be passed at the seventieth Congress and a special session for tariff revision delayed until autumn. If it is decided to ask Mr. Hoover the question, then will come the worry over ways and means of doing it.

Some Congressional leaders understand that if the McNary bill is passed at this session that President Coolidge will leave the appointment of the farm board to Mr. Hoover. They believe the President feels that the Hoover administration will be saddled with the responsibility of farm relief and that the President-elect should be entrusted with laying the ground work.

Michigan First of Big Ten to Play

Chicago, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Michigan's "dark horse" team inaugurates the Big Ten basketball season tonight by taking the initiative in ridding Big Ten athletic contests of hissing and booing by adopting a decalog of sportsmanship.

Every team except Purdue, Wisconsin and Illinois will play preliminary games this week. Tomorrow night's games are: Ohio Wesleyan at Ohio State, Washington University at Indiana, South Dakota at Iowa, North Dakota at Minnesota, Wabash at Northwestern and Monmouth at Chicago.

With a new coach, George Veenker, and the absence of its last season's stars, Oosterbaan and Harrigan, Michigan is the "dark horse" of the Big Ten basketball race. Chapman, McCoy, Orwig and Rose form a veteran nucleus of the Maize and Blue team.

ILLINI ADOPT SPORTS CODE: GOLDEN RULE

Students Vote to be Fair to Opponents in Every Sport

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 7.—(AP)—University of Illinois students have taken the initiative in ridding Big Ten athletic contests of hissing and booing by adopting a decalog of sportsmanship.

Adoption of the code, which follows the golden rule, came as a climax of a campaign started by George Huff, Director of Athletics, who recently wrote a letter to all Illinois students, asking them to be more sportsmanlike at all athletic games, especially basketball. Students framed and adopted the decalog at a mass meeting last night.

Under its provisions, Illinois students, who are "true Illini sportsmen," hereafter will consider all athletic opponents as guests and treat them as such, accept all official decisions without question, never hiss or boo a player or official, never utter abusive or irritating remarks from the side line, applaud opponents who make good plays or show good sportsmanship; never attempt to rattle an opposing player, seek to

EDWARD PEARSON, RAILROAD CHIEF, DIED THIS MORN

Born in Illinois, He Be- came Prominent in Big Business

Boston, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Edward J. Pearson, who retired recently as president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, died today at the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore. It was announced at the offices of the railroad here.

As a railroad president, Edward J. Pearson thought more of blue prints and maps than he did of recreation. There were associates who were willing to wager that more maps were in Pearson's office at New Haven than in the offices of all railroad presidents in the country combined.

Pearson's career prior to his presidency of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad in 1917 had to do with construction of terminals and freight yards. A familiar office picture of him was that of a man at a window watching the yards opposite and remarking: "I'd hate to walk the track tonight." As an engineer he had walked the New Haven road-bed from New York to Springfield, Mass., and the wharves and docks of the company from New York to Boston, surveying tracklaying, switching facilities and maintenance.

When he was less than ten years old he used to ride on the wood burning engines and stand in the gangway when wood was being thrown on, racking it in tiers.

Pearson was a mid-westerner by birth but New Englander by heritage. His mother was a native of Corinth, Maine. His father was born in Rockville, Ill., October 4, 1869. He married Gertrude S. Simmons at Evanston, Ill., June 7, 1899.

Fire Threatened Genoa This Morn

Sycamore, Ill., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Fire threatened to destroy the main business block of Genoa, eight miles north of here, early today when flames originating in a bakery spread to adjoining buildings. The Genoa Hatchery, the town's main business building, was in the area threatened. The fire department from Sycamore assisted in subduing the blaze.

REMARKABLE R. R. JOURNEY WAITS PRESIDENT-ELECT

Transandine Railroad One of Most Remarkable in World

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, boarding the Transandine railway train, will ride on the world's most remarkable roller coaster.

The Latin-American good-will party will cut across the continent, after visiting Santiago, on the Transandine to Buenos Aires, Argentina.

From half a mile above sea level at the village of Los Andes, the Transandine crawls up to Caracoles, two miles above sea level, in 43 miles of travel.

It crosses the Argentine boundary within a two-mile tunnel under the summit of the Great Divide.

On the Argentine side, it crosses the Mendoza river five times in 10 miles. On that same side, there are 71 bridges and viaducts and 10 tunnels in 112 miles. One hundred and fifty-five miles of the Argentine track are narrow gauge and 34 per cent of that is curves. The two-mile tunnel at the summit was started from both sides. So true were the surveys that when the parties met in the middle of the mountain, they were only three-fourth of an inch out of line.

Mr. Hoover has expressed his intention to visit the statue, "The Christ of the Andes," at the summit of the Uspallata Pass. The sombre figure set in peaks of surpassing grandeur pledges the peace of Argentina and Chile and it is a sight travelers never forget. The inscription reads:

"Sooner shall these mountains crumble into dust than the people of Argentina and Chile break the peace which they have sworn to maintain at the feet of Christ, the Redeemer."

To reach the statue, the party will disembark at the station nearest the tunnel entrance and make their way 2000 feet higher by the wagon road.

A Transandine railroad is a Yankee idea. William Wheelwright of Newburyport, Mass., first challenged the barrier backbone of South America. His line, projected farther north, never materialized, so it remained for Juan and Mateo Clark of Chile to contract for the construction of the present Transandine railroad in 1878.

Hampered by revolutions, financial troubles and unparalleled engineering problems, the line remained uncompleted until 1910.

The Transandine is unique among railroads in that it draws income chiefly from passengers. Freight rates are still so high that mule trains continue a prosperous business carrying goods up the old wagon trail over the Uspallata Pass. When avalanches halt the trains in winter, passengers go by mule up the mountains and through the two-mile tunnel.

Of the narrow gauge track, 25 miles are fitted with cogs because the grade is too steep for wheels alone.

The Transandine offers the shortest route from either Los Angeles or New York to Buenos Aires, New York is about 28 days by steamer from the Argentine capital, but a traveler can make the journey in 22 days by shipping through the Panama Canal to Valparaiso, Chile, and thence by Transandine to Buenos Aires.

West Facing Fight to Hold His Place

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—President Coolidge gave Congress another fighting issue today and it was seized upon immediately with prospects of a battle over the nominations of Roy O. West of Illinois as Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. West is serving, along with William F. Whiting, Secretary of Commerce, by reason of a recess appointment. As soon as his name was presented, Chairman Nye of the public lands committee, served notice that he would ask hearings on the nomination, especially on whether Mr. West was connected with the Samuel Insull public utility interests in Chicago.

The nominations were submitted as Congress was beginning its fourth day's session, with Boulder Dam and many other hotly contested issues awaiting action during the next three months. Boulder dam had its place on the floor of the senate, with prospects of many days of debate before a decision is reached.

Prohibition Agent Killed by Gas Fumes

Houston, Tex., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Because with his last breath their colleague, overcome by fumes in an underground whiskey distillery, shouted "Go back! Go back!" three prohibition agents today were alive to investigate the possibility that the victim, Pat Sharpe, 40, died not of noxious atmosphere but in a lethal trap in a liquor cave here.

Sharpe descended into the cave by a ladder yesterday with Victor Butthod, his chief, and two other agents following behind. He cried out his warning from the bottom of the cavern and was heard no more. Butthod rushed to aid him, collapsed and was dragged to the surface by the two other officers, who could not find the agent before they were forced back to the open air. Sharpe, a veteran in the service, lay dead in the chamber for 30 minutes before Dr. M. C. Waltrip, a dentist, holding his nose, reached his body.

An aged Italian, owner of the farm holding the still, was arrested, but no charges have been filed against him.

JUDGES RULE IN SPORTDOM, WITH LANDIS AS CZAR

Four Men, Formerly in Courts, Figure in Sport

(Feature Service Sports Editor)
New York—(AP)—They're laying down the law of athletics, are these judges of sportdom—Landis, Steffen, Fuchs and Mahoney.

For a long time the first named of the Big Four was THE judge of sport, but the others have now attracted the public eye.

Doubtless the best known of the jurists associated with sports is the dynamic Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball. Retained to help safeguard the game which at the time was staggering from the "Black Sox" scandal, Kenesaw Mountain Landis, formerly of the Federal bench in Chicago, is still a judge, a mighty judge, of things concerning professional baseball.

Another baseball figure with the word judge prefixing his name is Emil Fuchs, owner of the Boston Braves. His courage in accepting the management of his own team, baseball men say, merits ranking with the most fearless of jurists. Judge Fuchs formerly presided as a Boston magistrate.

Walter P. Steffens, a judge of the courts by vocation and a judge of football talent by avocation, is a member of the Superior court bench of Chicago. The brilliant Carnegie Tech team, undefeated during the 1928 football season until it met New York University in its closing game of the year, attests to the Chicago jurist's power and influence in the game of football. Judge Steffens, while officially designated as "advisory coach," at Carnegie, is recognized as the man behind the gun when it comes to football at the Pittsburgh institution. Three of the judges hold power over national baseball, the Boston Braves or the Carnegie Tech gridiron terrors, but Judge Jeremiah T. Mahoney wields the gavel on legal subjects affecting the Amateur Athletic Union. As chairman of the judicial committee, he is chief advisor. He was active in the days of the late J. E. Sullivan and now is one of the trustees of the J. E. Sullivan fund, established to further the cause of amateur athletics. He receives the greeting "Good Morning, Judge," when he occupies the bench in a New York magistrate's court.

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle — A business change of importance is noted in the sale of the Rowland Pharmacy to L. R. McCosh of Rockford, effective December 3. Mr. McCosh will move his family to Rochelle soon and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rowland plan to return to Dixon where Mr. Rowland will be associated with his father in a drug store.

Memorial services for the six members of Rochelle Lodge No. 1501, B. P. O. E., who have died since the lodge was established here were held in the lodge rooms Sunday afternoon, with Attorney W. P. Landon as the principal speaker. The local lodge now has a membership roll of 200.

Howard Herron left Monday for California on a business trip for the Midwest Canning Co.

Miss Zulah Beck and her brother Clare Beck plan to open an inn at Grand Detour the first of the year, succeeding the management of the Goodspeed inn, nicely located on the main traveled and beautiful Black Hawk trail. A camping ground for tourists will be a feature. With this business change Miss Beck has resigned her position held as head of the children's department of the Carney & Longenecker clothing store for the past nine years.

The county meeting of Women's clubs will be held in Chana December 8th, from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m.

When it comes to being "go-getters" Rochelle Legionnaires won't take a back seat for anybody. Tuesday Commander John P. Manning and his Adjutant, John W. Nelson were rounding up five new members to bring the post up to a total of 122 when they swooped down on Hans Tastad and signed him up for another year. Mr. Tastad was leaving for Norway on Wednesday where he will spend a year with relatives. One more day and Mr. Tastad would have gotten away but now proudly leaves with a paid-up membership card.

Commander Manning and Adjutant Nelson will attend the commanders' and adjutants' meeting to be held at Bloomington, Saturday and Sunday, December 8 and 9 and are planning big things. Their coming will be heralded by a souvenir safety book match which will bear the Legion insignia, Rochelle Post No. 403, American Legion, and John P. Manning commander, and John W. Nelson, adjutant. These will be distributed at every plant. The local representatives are planning on big things and expect to sign up the state commander and other notables for a big Legion banquet to be held in the Woodman Hall here in January. The city council, business men, and post members will attend and the meeting is planned to acquaint the business men with the ideals of the Legion. A determined effort will be made to also book the old German band of the West Chicago Post for a return engagement.

Rochelle Post No. 403, American Legion, will realize $350 from their carnival according to present expectations. On Saturday night there were 587 paid admissions and the dance floor netted $150.00.

At the post executive committee Tuesday night it was decided to contribute to the state auxiliary fund which will be used to furnish every veteran in state hospitals with a sweater and a whisk broom and case for Christmas. The local Auxiliary is contributing $80.00 and gives $12.00 monthly for veteran relief.

A special communication of Horicon Lodge No. 244, A. F. & A. M. will be held in the Masonic Temple Tuesday evening, December 11th. Dinner will be served at 6:30 by the ladies of the Eastern Star. A third degree will be conferred. Past masters will have charge of the ceremonies.

LONG, LONG WAIT

Philadelphia—The children of Eli Wasserman have $4500 coming to them, but they'll have to wait 25 years before they get it. Upon Wasserman's death, a clause was found in his will providing for the dividing of his estate between his ten children. The division was prolonged for the 25 years because of ill treatment received from them.

Children Training; Is Important Job

Chicago, Dec. 7—(AP)—Parents of today are "muddled about this most important of all jobs—training their children," Dr. Jessie A. Charters, director of Adult Education in Ohio State College of Education, told leaders of Child Study groups of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Child study is one of the major pursuits of the Illinois Congress this year, with Mrs. Victor Munnecke of Chicago in charge as Child Study chairman; Mrs. Harry Otten, Springfield, conducting the work for the Springfield council; Mrs. L. K. Nickell of East St. Louis directing the work in counties of Madison, St. Clair, Clinton, Washington, Perry, Randolph and Monroe, and Mrs. Floyd Monroe of Quincy, in charge of child study in that vicinity.

"What is the matter with us as parents? We don't know our job," Dr. Charters said. "We don't understand ourselves, nor our children, nor the world we live in. We don't have any clue of the civilization we are entering so we don't know how to prepare our children for life. We are all muddled about this most important of all jobs—training our children."

"We are not sure but that training in strict obedience of child to parent did not go out of fashion thirty years ago; but that bringing up the child to orthodox belief in God and Heaven and Immortality will make him narrow, even bigoted; but that restriction of his wishes and impulses will handicap him with repressions and neurotic conflicts.

"The situation is such that parents are trying blindly to find their way toward a better and more perfect performance of their profession of parenthood, and to meet this great need of parents the older and wiser are gathering together whatever there is of research and science in psychology, education, history, and are putting this material into books and magazines that parents may receive some help in their problems.

"This new study of the problem of parenthood is called 'Parental Education.' It is being taken up by the Parent Teacher Associations all over America—these are the parents—the ones who want to learn. The National and State organizations are doing their best to meet the demands of parents—of the fathers and mothers in country, village, town and city.

"The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers is this year carrying on a monthly Institute for Leaders of Parent Education groups. Mrs. Victor H. Munnecke is in charge of the instruction work of the institute. It is hoped that through this means parents in Illinois will be put in touch with whatever help there is available for them. The parents are banding themselves together in study groups and asking for leadership. The institute now being carried on by the Illinois Congress is making every effort to provide the leaders and the lessons for the parent's study groups."

LARGE CARILLON BEING INSTALLED IN MASONIC BLDG.

62-Bell Instrument is to Feature Cathedral
in Pittsburgh

Mercersburg, Pa.—(AP)—A world-famous carillonneur soon will be playing the largest carillon in America—the 62-bell instrument to be installed in the Scottish Rite cathedral in Indianapolis.

The noted player is Anto Brees, who has completed two years service with Mercersburg academy and now has gone to Mountain Lake, Fla., to give daily concerts on the 61-bell carillon erected by Edward W. Bok as a memorial to his parents.

While playing here, Brees was called upon to open the service of all important carillons built in America in that period, including the 61-bell instrument of Trinity Methodist church, Springfield, Mass., the largest in the country until the Bok bells were installed. There are only 30 of these instruments in the United States and only 200 in the world.

Coming to America in 1924 to give recitals, Brees was the first professional carillonneur to enter the country. In addition to his work here, he has played many other noted carillons, and was for a year soloist of the Rockefeller carillon in New York City. He was born in Antwerp and studied under his father, Gustaaf Brees, organist emeritus of the Antwerp cathedral and carillonneur of the city.

Brees will go to Indianapolis May 1, 1929. He is succeeded here by Bryan Parker of Sydney, Australia, who came here from the carillon at Loughborough, England, where in 1924 he was a student of Brees.

Brooklyn—It wasn't Joseph Haverick's fault that he didn't commit suicide. He called the undertaker and made arrangements for him to call for a dead body the following morning. He turned on the gas in a closed room and gave himself up to die. The undertaker found the body the next morning, but a pulmonologist of the police department revived it.

SERVICE OF U. S. COAST GUARD IN YEAR SATISFIED

Saved Many Lives and Much Property Dur- ing Past Year

Washington, Dec. 6—(AP)—The far flung activities of the United States Coast Guard in protecting the coasts of the nation from smugglers, in aiding ships and persons in distress and patrolling ice bound waters on watch for menacing ice bergs in steamship lanes, were described today in the annual report of the service.

During the fiscal year of 1928, the report said that the Coast Guard rescued 3983 persons from peril, aided ships valued at $39,479,720 on which there were 17,383 persons and seized or reported for law violations 1554 vessels. During the year derelicts valued at $103,520 were recovered and restored to their owners, while 167 derelicts and obstructions to navigation were destroyed.

Rum Row Wiped Out
The work of the Coast Guard in preventing the smuggling of liquor into this country, the report declared, has been satisfactory, but with the resources in vessels and men now in command, it said it is impossible to do more. Rum Row, it stated, has been entirely wiped out and liquor smuggling on the sea coasts has been "tremendously curtailed."

Declaring that there still remains a great deal of liquor smuggling on the Great Lakes, the report said that "it is believed that in this matter the Coast Guard has accomplished all that is possible to accomplish with its present resources. It continued however: "It is firmly believed that the Coast Guard can go the rest of the way toward a practically complete prevention of smuggling on our coasts if it be given the resources with which to do it."

ISO=VIS

A FULL-TIME MOTOR OIL

There is Danger in Part-Time Lubrication

Your engine needs lubrication—not part of the time—but all of the time.

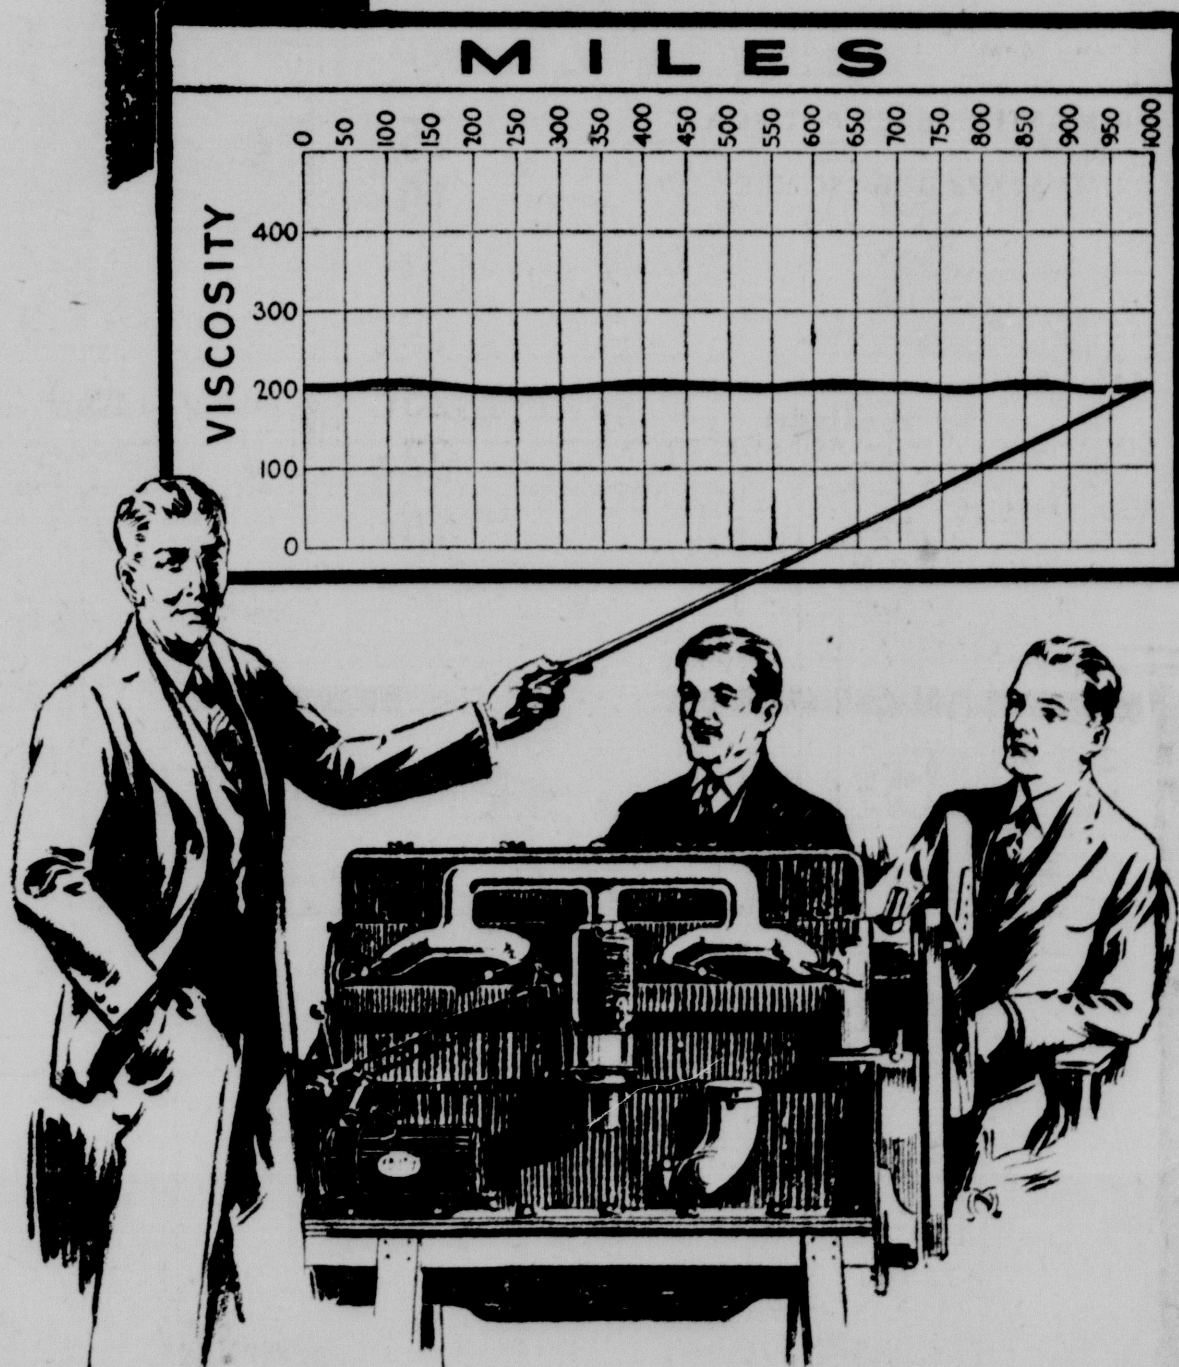

Old-type, ordinary motor oil will not give full-time lubrication. After 200 miles of driving it thins out. Your engine is not getting the lubricating service it needs.

Use Iso=Vis, the constant viscosity motor oil. It will not thin out. Iso=Vis was developed in the research laboratory of this company. It was made to overcome dilution trouble—and it does.

Give your car the advantage of full-time motor oil. Use Iso=Vis.

TELETYPE GIVEN TRIAL AND WAS PROVEN SUCCESS

Machine, Described in Thursday Telegraph, was Demonstrated

BY HOWARD W. BLACKSLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 6.—(AP)—A telegraph wire operated two newspaper typesetting machines here today at the plant of the Rochester Times Union.

Dispatches by wire were transferred mechanically directly into the machines, with human touch eliminated, and were recorded in lines of metal type, each as long as a news column is wide.

The object of the invention is to shorten the time and work required to transfer news from the place where it occurs to the printed page. Walter W. Morey, of East Orange, New Jersey, invented the machine, known as a teletype setter, and the Morkrum-Kleinschmidt corporation of Chicago built it.

The sending was done in the demonstration room to two machines on the opposite side of the room, which were operated simultaneously from the same wire. One was a linotype and the other an intertype. The short sending wire was made equivalent to a distance of 140 miles by resistance coils.

The sender punched a tape, seven-eighths of an inch wide, which operated the telegraph wire by sending impulses corresponding to the holes in the tape. At the receiving end an instrument a little larger than the typewriter produced a punched tape exactly similar to the sending tape. This receiving tape then ran automatically through a small electrical machine on a stand beside the typesetting machine. The little machine once more translated the tape holes into electrical impulses.

The electric waves were carried by a wire to an apparatus roughly resembling a large human hand, fastened to the side of the typesetting machine. Each metal finger controlled a number of letters and characters of the typesetting machine, which it released according to the impulse received, and when it gave the release signal the typesetting machine functioned exactly as if a human operator had pressed down the key for a letter or character.

Boswell Pleads Not Guilty to Accusation

East St. Louis, Ill., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Arlie Boswell, former State's Attorney for Williamson County, and five defendants in an alleged conspiracy in that county, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Federal Judge Wham here today.

Those who pleaded not guilty with Boswell were George Bell, former Coroner of Williamson County.

Hezzie Byrn, assistant Chief of Police at Johnson City, Sam Loni and Pete Salmo.

Judge Wham overruled a demurrer by their attorney who argued that because there had been no reapportionment of Congress since the 1910 census, the Volstead act was not binding.

Boswell was charged with having been connected with the Birger gangsters in a liquor combine in the county.
